How Raffles Established a British Port in Singapore

These questions need to be based on the video.

Stamford Raffles went to India to meet Lord Hastings after writing to him on April 1818.

Lord Hastings gave his approval for Sir Stamford Raffles to look for a suitable location on the southern end of the Straits of Melaka to set up a British trading port. He advised Raffles to look for a place that was not already controlled by the Dutch.

Sir Stamford Raffles learnt that Singapore used to be a successful trading port in the past. On 28 January 1819, Sir Stamford Raffles and Major Farquhar anchored off St John's Island, which was to the south of Singapore.

Sir Stamford Raffles was greeted by an Orang Laut, who informed him that the Temenggong of Johor lived on the island of Singapore. The Orang Laut also said that the Dutch were not on the island.

Sir Stamford Raffles quickly went to see the Temenggong. The Temenggong, however, informed Sir Stamford Raffles that Singapore belonged to the Sultan of Johor. Sir Stamford Raffles would need the Sultan's permission to set up a British trading port on the island.
