Primary 6 Curriculum Briefing 2024 - Frequently Asked Questions

Q: Will there be a study break for Primary 6 students prior to their PSLE?

A: According to the guidelines given by MOE, Primary Schools are to implement a three-day study break for Primary 6 students from Monday, 23 September to Wednesday, 25 September 2024, prior to written PSLE papers to support student well-being.

Primary 6 Curriculum Briefing 2024 - Frequently Asked Questions

Q: : Will there be any mock exams before Preliminary Exams and PSLE?

A: To help students prepare for the Preliminary Exams and PSLE, subject teachers will be going through practice papers or past year PSLE papers with the students and providing feedback for their learning. Subject teachers will also provide opportunities for timed practice, for students to have a sense of the duration of the papers. However, our school will not be having mock exams to prevent exam anxiety, overload and fatigue for the students.

Primary 6 Curriculum Briefing 2024 - Frequently Asked Questions

Q: How many days leave can a student take? What is the leave policy?

A: Primary school Education is compulsory by law (Compulsory Education Act). As such attendance during curriculum is mandatory. However, there are exceptions which will be approved on a case-by-case basis such as medical leave endorsed by doctors, official school events, for example representing school in competitions, school-based holidays such as Parent Teacher Meet, E-Learning as well as other valid reasons. Parents are encouraged to adhere to curriculum time and utilise the term holidays set aside nationwide for students to take a break.
