How Raffles Established a British Port in Singapore

This presentation is based on multiple slides.

Sir Stamford Raffles went to India to meet Lord Hastings after writing to him on April 1818.

Lord Hastings gave his approval for Sir Stamford Raffles to look for a suitable location at the southern end of the Straits of Melaka to set up a British trading port. He advised Raffles to look for a place that was not already controlled by the Dutch.

Sir Stamford Raffles was greeted by an Orang Laut, who informed him that the Temenggong of Johor lived on the island of Singapore. The Orang Laut also said that the Dutch were not on the island.

Sir Stamford Raffles quickly went to see the Temenggong. The Temenggong, however, informed Sir Stamford Raffles that Singapore belonged to the Sultan of Johor. Sir Stamford Raffles would need the Sultan's permission to set up a British trading port on the island.

44 Growing Years

Every person's body is unique and will develop at its own pace.

Physical changes during puberty do not change the kind of person we are.

We can continue to develop our unique qualities and skills.

I can...

FAMILY TIME

What can you do to help overcome these challenges? Complete the activity below by ticking the boxes. Identify as many kind choices as you can.

My family and I can do our part during food supply disruptions by:

- Being flexible with our food choices
- Rushing to the market or supermarket to buy more food than we need
- Showing kindness and sharing food with our neighbours and friends
- Following the news to find out if any food is unsafe for consumption
- Buying local produce (fresh food that is grown in Singapore farms)

Did you know?

The Singapore Food Agency (SFA) ensures and secures a supply of safe food into Singapore.

Ever wondered how SFA maintains food safety? Scan the QR code and watch this video to find out how food inspectors and scientists conduct food safety checks.

SFA has also introduced the Singapore Fresh Produce logo.

When you see this logo on a food packaging in the supermarket, it means the food was grown here!
